COLORADO MODULAR COMPANY SIGNS CONTRACT FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING ON THE WESTERN SLOPE

--December 2007

Barvista Building Systems (www.barvistabuildingsystems.com), a Berthoud, Colorado based modular manufacturer, announced the signing of a thirty-eight (38) house contract in conjunction with Baldy Creek Builders, a New Castle based modular builder, to supply affordable homes for the Keator Grove project in Carbondale, Colorado.

The Keator Grove Housing Project is an affordable housing project being developed as a public-private partnership between the Mountain Regional Housing Authority and a group of private development companies and investors.

The contract represents the first phase of several in the Keator Grove project, and other potential affordable housing projects being developed by the public-private partnership involved in Keator Grove. Initial deliveries are expected in January of 2008, and the contract is expected to be completed by July 2008.

Barvista Homes is a privately held Colorado based modular factory. For more information about Barvista, email: sales@barvistahomes.com.

Baldy Creek Builders is a modular builder that delivers modular construction throughout the Roaring Fork Valley. For more information about Baldy Creek Builders, email: cwjwsnow@comcast.net
